V. REFLECTIONS AND CONCLUSIONS

The first half of the year has been an incredible journey. From meeting and working with amazing student leaders across Ontario, to the goals we accomplished in our Dyad models, we have been humbled and feel honoured to have the opportunity to serve as Ontario Regional Directors. We are proud to have strengthened CFMS's collaboration with OMSA through our joint endeavours of advocating to increase student representation on COFM and improving medical student wellness. Thank you in particular to Debbie Brace (OMSA Chair), Sharon Yeung (OMSA Co-Chair), and Victoria McKinnon (OMSA Director of Education) for sharing our vision and making this possible. We will continue striving to improve our connection with Ontario medical students, and to inform them of the amazing resources and opportunities from CFMS.

Within Global Health, I (Felipe) have been fortunate enough to work with the wonderful GHRT in discussing the particularities of global health advocacy across the country, and increasing collaboration across the country. The GHRT has taken on new projects, in providing a complement to the CFMS Day of Action with the GH Day of Education. As well, there has been increased communication and collaboration within the GHRT with a greater frequency of teleconferences and opportunities to communicate. There has been increased activity within the Indigenous section of Global Health, and we will continue to work on assessing how the CFMS can best address Indigenous health and representation. Currently, we are waiting to host an Indigenous Week of Action to advocate to medical schools to follow the AFMC Joint Commitment to Action on Indigenous Health. As well, representing Canada at the IFMSA in Brazil was an incredible opportunity that allowed me to participate in high-level discussion surrounding organization, capacity building, and advocacy potential for countries within the region., as well as collaboration opportunities.

Within Education, I (Avrilynn) am continually inspired by the passion, engagement, and work ethic of the members of ART and our Education Portfolio. In addition to advancing the projects undertaken by the Education and Research Committees, I look forward to advancing our efforts to advocate for policy change relevant to uCMGs, improve the AFMC Electives Portal, and release the inaugural CFMS Annual National Survey to empower CFMS's representation. The COVID-19 pandemic resulted in significant disruptions to our medical education, for which the CFMS will continue to ensure medical student interests are protected in the development and implementation of solutions. None of this work would be possible without the phenomenal Education team. Alex Cohen, our National Officer of Education keeps ART and the Education Committee running smoothly with her top-notch organization. Lia Huo and Eagan Peters, our National Officers of Research Sr. and Jr. have driven many new initiatives to support and encourage medical student research. I would like to thank Rishi Sharma, our Director of Education, for his constant support and mentorship, and Victor Do, our President, for pushing me to think bigger as a student leader.

Lastly, we are grateful to our fellow Board members for their support throughout this year, and whose dedication motivates us to tackle and embrace our own work as Ontario Regional Directors and Attachés. We look forward to all that we will accomplish!

Sincerely,
